OUR STORY

The Tigermoth story is rooted in a passion for interiors, a strong engineering heritage and an unwavering attention to detail.

Tigermoth was born 12 years ago out of a desire to create elegant modern lighting, immaculate in every detail. We successfully launched our first collection of pendant lights at Decorex in 2009, and we have grown organically ever since.

Every year, we add new designs to a collection that features over 1000 customisable options. Meanwhile, the team of Tigermoth's talented craftspeople has grown to fill a brand-new dedicated workshop in the picturesque Thameside village of Pangbourne.

In all that time, the one thing that has not changed is the care and attention we pay to every detail of every light, for every client we work with.

OUR ETHOS

Harriet Daniels
Founder and creative director

For many, the appeal of our lights lies in their juxtaposition of lightness and strength. Our design ethos reflects the background of Tigermoth founder Harriet Daniels, which fuses a lifelong love of interior design with a first career in engineering.

Tigermoth is recognised as an Industry Partner of the British Institute of Interior Design. We are a Lighting Industry Association Quality Assured Company and an Accredited Partner of the Society of British Interior Design. Our work has been recognised by the interiors press internationally, including House and Garden, 25 Beautiful Homes, The English Home magazine and many more. In 2020, we were winners of the SBID Product Design Awards for our Fold Linear Chandelier.
